—Remember that the REPUBLICAN office is equipped to do your job printing—of every description—in a neat and satisfactory manner, and with no vexatious delays. Bring it in.
—“Remember the idea of March.” Think we will all wish this time. The old fellow was a ripper. Let us hope for a gentler April, though Br'er Hicks says she'll be a rocky one from start to finish.
—The last preaching services to be held in the old Methodist church will be on next Sabbath evening, when Rev. F. M. Small, a former pastor of the church, will deliver the sermon. A general invitation is cordially extended.
—The Nebraska company started a fleet of four flat boats Monday for Pittsburgh, and expect to start two more today composed of eleven barges and one flat. The Forest Barge company's run of 24 barges got through safely and the crews have all returned home.
—Will consider rough lumber, delivered at Franklin, Pa., in exchange for two building lots at Panama, Texas, valued at $500.00, and one lot at Lucerne, California, valued at $750.00; submit your offer for one or both properties to E. C. Smith, Box 172, Franklin, Pa.
—The Warren Business College has a change of ad. this week to which special attention is called. Mr. Smith, the enterprising president of the institution insists that they must have a big list of students in order to supply the demands made upon their college for help. They guarantee positions to every one of their graduates.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will give their annual Easter Supper at W. R. C. hall next Wednesday evening, April 7th, beginning at 5:30 o'clock. They will present a menu of unusual excellence, and hope to receive a generous patronage from the public.
—Byron Walter of Nebraska had his left hand quite badly lacerated on the slasher saw in the mill at that place Monday morning. He was down and had Dr. Bovard make the necessary surgical repairs and the doctor does not anticipate any serious effect from the wound, although “Byde” will be thrown out of work for some time.
—Several car loads of chestnut tanning wood have been loaded at Hunter Station within the past few days, and it is expected to ship large quantities from there during the coming season. This is becoming quite an industry among the farmers of this section, giving them an opportunity to replace their old rail fences with barbed wire at a good profit.
—James Swab, of Hunter station, was a business caller at the REPUBLICAN office Thursday. He has a sand bank on his property which is said to yield an excellent quality of moulding sand, and which he has been developing of late. Mr. Swab expects to ship many car loads of the material to foundries at Oil City, Pittsburg, and other cities this season.

—County Commissioner Harry H. Baumgardner of Venango county, found guilty of misconduct in office at a special term of court at Franklin three weeks ago, tendered his resignation as Commissioner on Friday last, and Judge Criswell immediately appointed James T. Wallace of Ulida to fill the unexpired term. The appointee has had considerable experience in the office, having filled the position for two terms previously.
—The Ladies' World for April again strikes a high note, and presents a table of contents that is remarkable for its quality. The number opens with a delightfully humorous love story by Elliott Flower. An article, With the President in the South, is short, but from it the reader gets a really intimate view of our popular executive. A charming Easter Song adds to the attractiveness of the number.—[New York; Fifty Cents a Year.]

—Mrs. Carrie H. Carson, treasurer of the local W. C. T. U. at West Hickory, is asking for a donation from the people of that place of all old newspapers, magazines, books, old worn-out clothing, rags, old rope, rubbers, and scrap iron. The idea being to devote the proceeds from the sale of the junk to the benefit of the town in general. Mrs. Carson requests that papers, magazines and books without covers be tied in flat packages with strings. All articles will be called for on April 15, so please be ready.

—Dr. Siggins of Oil City, Joseph Clark and James Canfield of this place, have taken a lease of several hundred acres in the vicinity of Hunter Station, two miles south of Tionesta, on the west side of the river, and have a well drilling on the James Swab tract, back near the line between Tionesta and Harmony townships. Wells drilled in this vicinity some years ago showed up good for paying territory, but oil was low at that time and the wells were not pumped. At present prices there will be no question about such territory paying out all right.

Those not absent during term: Mary Alice Zuendel.
EDITH GAYLEY, Teacher.

—What might have proved a very disastrous conflagration was happily nipped in the bud last Sunday afternoon by the timely discovery of a passerby. The small building occupied by Thomas Cowan as a harness and shoemaker shop, and located between the Agnew dwelling and the Conner building, corner of Hill and Elm streets, had taken fire near the flue, which had become badly dilapidated, and was burning quite lustily on the roof when the discovery was made. With a good start and a little breeze going several of our largest buildings might have been consumed.
—Trespassing upon railroad property for securing free transportation is neither pleasant nor profitable. The legal penalties are severe and the risk immense. The Pennsylvania railroad killed 657 trespassers last year and injured 791. The slaughter was not so large as in 1907, when 822 were killed. Probably the supply of tramps is diminishing. If the fear of death will not deter the knights of the road from stealing rides, it does not seem that the fear of the law will stop them. The railroads find the policing of trains, tracks and yards not only a necessity but an economy.

—Councilman Wm. N. Felt, of Franklin, eldest son of our townsman, Rev. E. F. Felt, was held up and robbed of $400 in cash and 300 in checks, last Saturday at midnight as he was going from his store to his home. Two masked men pounced upon him while walking along one of the principal streets of the city, and after a desperate fight in which he was beaten almost into insensibility the footpads succeeded in robbing their victim of his wallet containing the sum stated. They made good their escape before help arrived. One was a large man wearing a black mustache, and the other a small man with smooth face.

—We note that one of our exchanges claims that “the hens are getting busy and eggs are dropping in price.” Which is possibly the case, but it is probable that the editor is guessing—or gassing. We know of one hen-roost supporting fourteen lusty cacklers that are not hussling in any alarming extent in these spring days, and we know that the proprietor of the roost has laid down about a quarter of a hundred plunks to keep the wren from the door of his henery in the last twelve-month, with the result that he's been egg-poor fully four-fifths of that period, and with a henfruit famine starving his family in the face the other one-fifth of the time, and yet there's no evidence of a business revival in the flock. No, the hens are not getting busy to any noticeable extent, and the man who says it pays to keep chickens will not go to heaven—in our opinion.

—A young man with a practical knowledge in his head, skill in his hands and health in his body is his own letter of reference. Mix him up with 60,000,000 of others, and you will find him again, as he will have a habit of being on top. Throw him naked into a desert island and he will be at the head of something. He does not go whining over the land, blaming fortune and says he has no chance, but goes out and does something, and goes out and does it again and better. Men that can do things either with head or hands are the men that are wanted, and the demand is as great here and now as it has been at any time since the beginning.
—“A successful guessing game for a children's party played out of doors was called a ‘Seeing-the-Town Trip,’” says a writer in Woman's Home Companion for April. “A large collection of local post cards was pinned about the lawn on the tree trunks and other places. The cards were numbered, and of course the names of the views cut off. The children were furnished with pencils and paper and told to ‘travel around town’ and write down what they saw. It was comical to see how some of the most familiar scenes puzzled them. The prizes were a post-card album for the most successful guesser and a collection of cards for the one who recognized the fewest number.”
—Rural letter carriers will come in for a little extra compensation if a bill introduced in Congress becomes a law. It provides that $50 per annum additional be allowed for the purchase and maintenance of necessary horses, wagon and equipment. In the average country districts this small allowance will be none too much for the wear and tear upon a carrier's outfit as he travels over the rough roads and in all kinds of weather.
—Like the present, for instance—is very great, and at the present meagre salary he is lucky if he comes out at the end of the year with his head above water, as it were. The rural delivery of mail has come to be very popular with the country people, and it has come to stay, we should hope, hence the carriers should have an adequate compensation, at least a living one.
—Philip Hargreider, aged 59, died at his home near Fryburg, Clarion county, at 1:30 a. m. Sunday as the result of injuries received at his sawmill at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hargreider, who owned a large farm in that part of the county, had set up and was operating the mill on his woodlot. On Saturday afternoon he was cutting out boards and one of these “bucked” or bent and flying back with great force the end struck him in the forehead, fracturing his skull and breaking a great hole in his head. The deceased was widely known throughout this section, being one of the most prominent citizens of his community. Mr. Hargreider was of a family of ten sons, nine of whom died in one year of diphtheria. A son of his was accidentally killed while employed with the Pure Oil Co., at Marcus Hook, N. J., a year ago.
—The members of Christ Evangelical Lutheran church of Baltimore, Md., Rev. Paul D. Schilling, pastor, have erected an edifice to be used as a church hall and parsonage. The pastor and family will occupy the second floor and the first floor is being fitted up for a church hall. The building is a brick edifice, finished throughout in weathered oak, and the furniture in the hall is mission style, giving a neatness and beauty seldom found in a building arranged for such a double use. The pulpit and altar, altar chairs, altar cloths, contribution plates, and so forth, were donated by different members of the congregation. The Ladies' Aid Society furnished the building with carpets and blinds. Miss Anna L. Schilling of Pittsburg, Pa., donated a beautiful pulpit Bible. This building was dedicated Sunday, March 14th. Rev. J. E. A. Doermann of Washington, D. C., and Rev. C. B. Goddes of Baltimore preached on this occasion. During the entire week services were held every night, different pastors of Baltimore and vicinity preaching at these services. Rev. and Mrs. Paul D. Schilling are pleasantly remembered here as former residents, and their many friends in this community will be quite interested in this bit of news of their success.

Remember this—ice harvesting on the 25th of March!
—The Washington, D. C., society correspondent of the Pittsburg Sunday Dispatch says: “The prospect of a summer's session has resulted in Representative and Mrs. Nelson P. RECENT DEATHS.
CONGR.
J. H. Conger, third son of James D. and Sophia Conger, died Sunday morning at six o'clock at the home of his mother in this place, after quite a lingering illness from tuberculosis. He was born June 23, 1878, at New Bethlehem, Clarion county, Pa., but the family have been residents of this county for the past twenty years. His father, J. D. Conger, who was a veteran of the Civil war, met his death by the explosion of a boiler, he saw mill on Bear Creek about 18 years ago, leaving his widow and a family of several small children. At the age of sixteen years Harry, by which name he was better known here, accepted a position with what is known as the Structural Iron Workers Union, who are employed in the erection of tall buildings and high bridges in all parts of the United States. He took sick while engaged in this kind of work in the city of Philadelphia some eight months ago, coming home soon after, where he was tenderly cared for by his mother and other members of the family until the end came. He was an honest, upright, industrious young man, and many friends of the family here will sympathize with them in their bereavement. A few years ago his wife and a young daughter died in Toledo, Ohio, since which time he has had no permanent home. Besides his mother, he is survived by one sister, Ella, and five brothers, John Conger, of Oil City; William, of Cripp Hill; James, of St. Louis, Mo.; Charles, of Bridgeport, Ill.; and Edward, at home. The funeral will take place at the new Mt. Collins cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Father A. H. Wiersbinski, of Tidoute, conducted the services.

LANDERS.
Orrin F. Landers, a lifelong resident in the vicinity of Nettilton, this county, died at his home at Pineville, Warren county, Tuesday morning, March 30, 1909, after an illness of four weeks of dropsy, aged about 67 years. Mr. Landers was one of the highly respected and honorable citizens of his community, where he held a high place in the estimation of his large circle of acquaintances. He had long been a member of the United Presbyterian church, and was a devoted Christian life. His wife, three sons and one daughter by his first wife survive. They are Chauncey F. and William M., of Los Angeles, Cal.; Clarence, at home, and Mrs. William Barnes, also of Los Angeles, Calif. Two brothers and one sister also survive—Byron Landers of Cassadaga, N. Y., David E. Landers of Summit City, McKean county, Pa., and Mrs. A. C. Carson of Carsonville, Venango county. The deceased was an uncle of our townsman, James J. and Joseph W. Landers, who will attend the funeral which takes place from his late home tomorrow, with interment in the Nettilton cemetery.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.
Mrs. W. S. Hendricks, who has been very ill for several months, went to Warren last week, where she underwent a very serious operation. She was somewhat improved in health on Saturday and it is earnestly hoped by her many friends here that she may have a speedy recovery to her former good health.
Mrs. Adolph Bauer, who underwent a slight operation one day last week, is slowly improving.
Mrs. Pat. Welsh, who has been ailing a large part of the winter, is down sick again.
J. B. Gerard, who has been a respected resident of Kellettville for the past fifteen years, departed on Tuesday for his new home at Corry, where he will follow his vocation of carpenter. Mr. Girard has been master mason of the local lodge for the past ten years and it is with a feeling of regret that we are compelled to lose such a capable citizen. Mr. G. will make good wherever he casts his lot.
Chas. Pope has sold his milk route to R. K. Grove. The change takes place on April 1st. Mr. Pope has worked up a good business and Mr. Grove is to be complimented on his judgment in knowing a good thing when he sees it.
An important matter has been taken place in the Watson & Co. store by the retiring of W. C. Sizle from the firm. We are unprepared to say what Mr. Sizle intends doing in the future.

Miss Myrna Detar departed for Oil City on Monday, where she will be engaged in the millinery business.
Ex-Sheriff Frank P. Walker, who has been with us for about eight months, has gone to Grunderville, where he has secured a good job.
George E. Barnes, whose condition was noted in the REPUBLICAN two weeks ago, died on Tuesday, March 25th, at 5 a. m., and was buried at Whig Hill cemetery on Thursday at 2 p. m. Mr. Barnes was born at Balltown about 48 years ago and with the exception of three years spent in New York, had resided here all his life. The deceased had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for a long time and medical aid did not seem to relieve his distressed feeling. Being unable to retain heavy food he became weaker and weaker until death. He is survived by a wife, three brothers and two sisters. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Horner of Mayburg.
Among the news items in last week's issue of the FOREST REPUBLICAN we note that Burgess J. D. W. Reek has received his “sheepskin” denoting his record as being the first 32-Mason in Forest county. We wish to disprove this statement and for proof will say that W. Leon Watson and the late A. C. Beason had that honor conferred on them in June, 1908, at Williamsport, Pa.

The Salmon Creek mill, which has been idle all winter, will resume operations on Monday, April 6th. It is reported the mill may be operated double turn while the new mill will undergo some needed repairs. A large force of yard men are employed in loading cars to fill orders. An Ideal Cough Medicine.
“As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself,” says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. “I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ill it is intended.” For sale by Dunn & Fulton.

When You Buy Clothing
It's a very good plan (and the only safe one) to trade at a store that you know will do exactly as they agree when selling you the goods. You know they all make rosy promises when getting your money, but how many “make good,” if the goods do not turn out as you expected and were led to believe when you bought the goods.
How Many?
How many return your money if you are dissatisfied?
How many replace the goods if not satisfactory?
If your clothes treat you this way, stick with him; there are none of us can do more. But if you are trading at a store that don't treat you this way we would be pleased to have you give us a trial.

Did You Ever Hear
Of Bill Nye when the stork brought twins? He wouldn't take $12,000,000 a piece for those kids or give a nickel for another. That is the conclusion every farmer has of the Oliver or Wiard Plows
After he has used one of them. They wouldn't part with them. They have grown popular for lightness of draft, simplicity of construction, neatness of finish and quality and satisfaction unsurpassed. Try one.

DON'T FORGET that we have
The Most Complete Stock of Hardware in the County.
Try Our Chinamel and Wall Paper Cleaner.
Tionesta Hardware.

When You Buy Clothing
It's a very good plan (and the only safe one) to trade at a store that you know will do exactly as they agree when selling you the goods. You know they all make rosy promises when getting your money, but how many “make good,” if the goods do not turn out as you expected and were led to believe when you bought the goods.
How Many?
How many return your money if you are dissatisfied?
How many replace the goods if not satisfactory?
If your clothes treat you this way, stick with him; there are none of us can do more. But if you are trading at a store that don't treat you this way we would be pleased to have you give us a trial.

We Are Ready
With 1909 Spring Goods, for Man or Boy.
